Mr. Blaine's Reply to Mr. Randall and Mr. Elmore.

AUGUSTA, ME., July 21, 1882.

HON. CHARLES G. WILLIAMS,
Chairman of Committee of Foreign Affairs, House of Representatives, U. S.

SIR:

I have received a copy of the supplementary statement which Mr. Robert E. Randall has been permitted to place before your honorable committee. As Mr. Randall's statement relates solely to my official conduct as Secretary of State, I respectfully ask the privilege of replying to his various accusations. I am also entitled to the privilege of answering the testimony of Mr. Elmore, the Minister from Peru, who associates himself with Mr. Randall as a corroborated witness.

I found, in March, 1881, when I was appointed Secretary of State, a correspondence in progress touching the Credit Industriel, Count Montferrand and Mr. Suarez appearing as its agents, and Mr. Randall as its attorney. The first official notice I took of the subject was in a formal interview on April 2d with Count Montferrand, at which Mr. Hitt, Assistant Secretary of State, was present as interpreter. The essential facts of that interview were correctly given by Mr. Hitt before your committee, and will be found on pages 335-342 of the official testimony. The substance of that interview was that, while I entertained a high respect for the Credit Industriel and should be glad to have it made an effective instrumentality to aid Peru in her financial distress, the Government of the United States could not and would not become responsible for a foreign corporation, in no way under American control and not in any manner legally answerable to the United States.

The proposition of the Credit Industriel was thus expressed in a letter from Count Montferrand and Mr. Suarez to Mr. Evarts. This was the only one discussed by Count Montferrand and was known as the "Guillaume programme."

"The proposition which the Credit Industriel makes has been submitted to you by Mr. Robert E. Randall, together with the correspondence which passed between that gentleman and Mr. Guillaume, the chairman of the Peruvian bondholders' committee, and we request that the same be attached hereto as a part of this communication.

"The Credit Industriel, you will observe, agrees to pay Chili and Peru, respectively, according to the proposition herein referred to, £500,000 per annum for a term of years to be agreed upon. This will justify a loan sufficient to cover the war indemnity demanded by Chili of £4,000,000 sterling, and leave to these respective countries sufficient to meet all legitimate national obligations. The Credit Industriel agrees to obligate itself at the same time to arrange with the Peruvian bondholders the indebtedness held by them, amounting, principal and interest, to upwards of £15,000,000 sterling, without they being compelled to look to Peru, and in return, the Credit Industriel simply requires that Chili shall surrender the conquered territory of Peru to Peru, subject to a Protectorate of the United States, guaranteeing to the Credit Industriel the free and unobstructed shipment of the deposits of the said territory, to wit, the guano and nitrates, for the same term of years."

Mr. Randall, in attempting to escape from the responsibility of having asked an American Protectorate on behalf of the Credit Industriel, quotes Mr. Elmore, the Peruvian Minister, as a witness. In a letter to Mr. Randall, Mr. Elmore says:

"The subject of a Protectorate was never once discussed, and the word Protectorate never once mentioned in any interview between Secretary Blaine and myself, or in any interview with Mr. Blaine, at which I was present with or without you.

"I always understood Secretary Blaine to favorably entertain the Credit Industriel Programme. He never objected to it for any reason, so far as I know. The proposition discussed was the programme of the Credit Industriel submitted by you to Secretary Evarts, otherwise called 'Guillaume Programme.'"

The salient feature of the Guillaume programme, its very foundation, indeed, as above quoted, was "an American Protectorate." Mr. Elmore says the proposition discussed was the Guillaume programme, and yet he adds that the subject of a Protectorate was never once discussed or the "word Protectorate never once mentioned." It is charitable to believe that, not being entirely familiar with the English language, Mr. Elmore had his letter prepared by some one else who was less scrupulous and careful than I have always supposed Mr. Elmore to be. The self-contradiction is so palpable that I am sure Mr. Elmore will be glad to correct it.

Another very strong objection to the United States adopting the Guillaume programme was that the Peruvian bondholders, for whose benefit it was devised, were all subjects of European governments. In Mr. Guillaume's original letter to Mr. Randall of October 27, 1880, the following paragraph will be found:

"But the absolute principle, which should not be lost sight of, is that the Credit Industriel shall be recognized and constituted the general liquidator, the worker of the guano and nitrates, the distributor of the proceeds to Chili and Peru, to the bondholders and creditors (all resident in Europe), that the Credit Industriel should be the syndicate, and that the deposits shall be neutralized until the paying off of the accounts, as otherwise there would be competition, and, with it, a depreciation of prices, preventing the fulfilling of the engagements that have been taken."

The United States Government was thus to recognize and constitute "the Credit Industriel the general liquidator," for the benefit of bondholders and creditors "all resident in Europe." Mr. Guillaume makes no reference whatever to any American interest and he graciously adds that "as to the European governments, there is no doubt that they would see with great satisfaction the settlement of the question of the Peruvian bonds, which interest their people."

Some months later Count Montferrand and Mr. Suarez wrote as follows:

"The subjects of Holland, Belgium, and France represent over one-half of the bondholders of Peru, and are the consumers of two-thirds of the guano and nitrate shipped to Europe, France using herself quite fifty per cent.; the balance of the bonds are held in Great Britain."

In another part of this communication they ventured to hint that citizens of the United States were interested to "a limited extent." Mr. Randall now makes bold to declare that "four millions of the Peruvian bonds" are held in this country. Considering that the bonds amount to two hundred and thirty millions in all, the attempt to manufacture an American interest out of four millions is rather lame and impotent. It is not improbable that these four millions were transferred to New York for the very purpose of declaring that an American interest existed.

But conceding that the bonds are honestly held in this country, Mr. Randall in urging the Guillaume programme asked that an American Protectorate be extended over the rescued provinces of Peru, for the purpose of enabling a French corporation to pay $225,000,000 of Peruvian bonds held in Europe, and four millions held in the United States. It was this absurd proposition which I always rejected and never consented to entertain for a moment. The United States was perfectly willing that the European bondholders should get their pay in any honorable manner, but the idea of making this government a guarantor for the Credit Industriel of France, and of extending an "American Protectorate" over a portion of Peru for the benefit of the subjects of four European nations, is a piece of wild policy which may be safely left to the authors and representatives of the Guillaume programme, including their attorney, Mr. Robert E. Randall.

In Mr. Hurlbut's instructions, when he set out upon his mission, I included the following paragraph:

"As you are aware more than one proposition has been submitted to the consideration of this government looking to a friendly intervention by which Peru might be enabled to meet the conditions which would probably be imposed. Circumstances do not seem at present opportune for such action; but if, upon full knowledge of the condition of Peru, you can inform this government that Peru can devise and carry into practical effect a plan by which all the reasonable conditions of Chili can be met without sacrificing the integrity of Peruvian territory, the Government of the United States would be willing to offer its good offices towards the execution of such a project."

I testified as reported on page 226 that this referred to the Credit Industriel, and instructed the American Minister to inform his Government whether "Peru could devise and carry into practical effect a plan, etc., etc." If Peru could do this the United States would lend its good offices. But the initiative was left wholly with Peru and the Minister had no instruction to take a single step except to inform his Government whether Peru could accomplish what was indicated.

During the autumn, rumors were in circulation that General Hurlbut was going beyond the spirit and letter of these instructions, and taking an active part in urging the Credit Industriel upon the Government of Peru, instead of merely waiting for Peru herself to devise a plan to secure a war indemnity for Chili, and then informing his Government. As these rumors multiplied, I telegraphed General Hurlbut, from excess of caution, on the 27th of October, in these words:

"Influence of your position must not be used in aid of Credit Industriel or any other financial or speculative association."

General Hurlbut immediately answered in these words:

"It has not been. It will not be."

General Hurlbut followed his telegraphic answer with a despatch, dated November 2d, in which at much greater length he disavowed having done anything of the kind rumored. He made the following declaration touching his relation to the Credit Industriel:

"I have looked upon the matter of these money arrangements between this corporation and the Peruvian Government, as a matter exclusively Peruvian, and not in the most remote degree connected with this legation."

And then after some reference to the Peruvian Company he closed with the following sweeping declaration. I have italicized some words to show that he had never received such instructions as Mr. Randall and Mr. Elmore assumed had been given him, and he never understood it was part of his duty to uphold the Credit Industriel. Gen. Hurlbut says:

"Let it suffice for me now to say, that I never have proposed, nor do I now propose, to aid officially or otherwise any project having any relation to the money affairs of Peru, from any source, American or foreign, unless instructed so to do. I shall use my best endeavors to restore good government in Peru and to bring about a peace, but shall leave that republic free, as I have hitherto done, to negotiate as she pleases for the ransom of her national life."

From this declaration it will be seen that General Hurlbut maintained the precise relation to the Credit Industriel that his instructions directed him to hold. To quote the verbal statements of a man, after he is dead, is always objectionable, and it will be noted that these written words of General Hurlbut are in conflict with the position assigned to him by Mr. Randall and Mr. Elmore in an alleged interview in the State Department. It is quite possible that Mr. Randall and Mr. Elmore may have been in the Department of State at the same time with Gen'l Hurlbut on the 27th of June, but they were not thereby any appointment or for any interview, and certainly not for an interview in regard to the Credit Industriel. I have no recollection at all of their being there together, but as it was a very common thing to have ten or fifteen callers at the same time they were possibly there and had some conversation with Gen'l Hurlbut. But the written statement of a man must stand against the recital of chance conversations reported after he is dead. It is for Mr. Randall and Mr. Elmore to reconcile their statements of Gen'l Hurlbut's position with his own definition of it in writing. His own definition of it corresponds precisely with all my statements and it pointedly contradicts the narrative given by Mr. Randall and Mr. Elmore. There I leave it.

On the 19th of November I sent a communication to Gen'l Hurlbut, from which I extract the following:

"On the 27th ultimo I sent you the following telegram: 'Influence of your position must not be used in aid of Credit Industriel or any other financial or speculating association.' On the 2d instant I received your reply in these words 'It has not been; it will not be.' My reason for telegraphing you was the continual circulation of rumors that the aid of your legation was earnestly desired to promote the interests of the 'Credit Industriel of France,' an association which is making efforts to reorganize the finances of Peru. Agents of the Credit Industriel had visited the Department of State and ineffectually endeavored to enlist the interest of this government in their behalf. However trustworthy the Credit Industriel may be, I did not consider it proper for the Department to have anything whatever to do with it. It is a foreign corporation, responsible to French law, and must seek its patronage and protection from France. At the same time it is no part of your duty to interfere with its negotiations with the Peruvian government. If it can be made an effective instrumentality to aid that unhappy country in its prostrate and helpless condition it would be ungenerous and unjust to obstruct its operations. Your duty is negative, and you will have fully complied with your instruction by simply abstaining from all connection with the association."

On the 1st of December, Mr. Trescot's instructions as Special Envoy were given him. The following is the only reference in the entire instruction to the subject of Peru furnishing the means for an indemnity to Chili. I do not see how it could have been more guarded in its terms or more reserved as to any committals on behalf of this government. I said:

"If negotiation be assured, the ability of Peru to furnish the indemnity will be a matter of direct interest. Upon this subject we have no information upon which definite instructions can now be based. While you will carefully abstain from any interposition in this connection, you will examine and report to this Department promptly any plans which may be suggested."

This closing instruction directed the minister to "carefully abstain from any interposition," and still left "any plans" for providing indemnity to be "suggested" by Peru and to be reported to the Department of State. It did not send out the "Guillaume programme" from Washington, ready made, to be urged upon Peru, as Mr. Randall and Mr. Elmore seem to have desired. The instructions to Mr. Hurlbut and Mr. Trescot did not differ on this point.

The extracts I have now given present every word I ever sent by telegraph or mail referring directly or by implication to the Credit Industriel. If there be the slightest inconsistency or change from the beginning to the end I am unable, after careful review, to perceive it. In every way possible I guarded the government against being committed to the guarantee of that Foreign Corporation, or to the idea of an American Protectorate as embraced in the Guillaume programme presented by Mr. Randall. At the same time I always expressed good will to the corporation and the hope that its agency might be beneficially employed for the relief of Peru, if Peru could devise a plan to that end. It seems to have been Mr. Randall's misfortune that he could not draw the distinction between wishing success to a corporation and becoming responsible for its acts. By Mr. Randall's mode of reasoning, to wish a man prosperity in business is to offer to endorse his notes in bank, and to guarantee him against loss.

The incident related by Mr. Randall and Mr. Elmore about my sending to the Navy Department to get an estimate of our naval strength in the South Pacific with the apparent intention of some warlike demonstration is very amusing. It needs little comment beyond the following statement:

July 18, 1882.

In May last, after Gen'l Hurlbut was confirmed as Minister to Peru, he requested that a naval vessel might be detailed to convey him from Panama to Callao. As private secretary to the Secretary of State at the time, I went to the Navy Department to get a list of the naval vessels in the South Pacific squadron with their respective locations, with the view of ascertaining the probable time of a vessel being at Panama.

That occasion, and the subsequent one when a naval vessel was asked to convey Mr. Trescot from Panama to Valparaiso, were the only times when I heard of our Naval strength in the South Pacific being discussed or in any way referred to in the Department of State.

WALKER BLAINE.

When the list was brought to me Mr. Randall and Mr. Elmore were in the Department and some remarks were made in an amusing vein about our great naval strength on the South Pacific coast, contrasting it with the seven English ironclads then on the same station. The fertile imagination and defective memory of Mr. Randall and Mr. Elmore have invested the incident with a significance for which there was never the slightest justification.

But the covert intention of Mr. Randall and Mr. Elmore in this narrative of imaginary incidents, was probably to create the impression that I was contemplating the possibility of a war in the South Pacific in which the United States might take part. Our naval strength in those waters was precisely the same when I left the Department that it was when President Garfield was inaugurated. But as this foolish war rumor has been entertained in higher quarters, I have asked from Mr. Trescot his views on that and on some other issues involved in this investigation. I append Mr. Trescot's reply touching the South American policy—all of which he saw; a great part of which he was.

From the joint statement of Mr. Randall and Mr. Elmore it would seem that these gentlemen were in prolonged and constant intercourse with myself as Secretary of State, touching the Credit Industriel. Our memories differ. I feel quite sure that I never exchanged a word with Mr. Elmore in regard to the Credit Industriel while I was in the Department of State. My recollection on this point is strengthened by the fact that in all the letters which Mr. Elmore addressed to me, some of them very long and very minute, intended to treat exhaustively every phase of the Peruvian question, there is not a single reference of any kind whatever to the Credit Industriel. And yet, if I were to judge Mr. Elmore by his statements made in Mr. Randall's supplementary testimony, I should infer that he came to the United States as the agent of the Credit Industriel and not as Minister from Peru. He intimates that I gave him a letter to Mr. Noyes, our Minister in France, in order to facilitate the designs of the Credit Industriel. The subject was never mentioned or dreamed of by me. Mr. Elmore came to me a few days after the shooting of the President, and said he was going to Paris, and would be glad if I would give him a note to Mr. Noyes, stating that he had been received by our Government. I cheerfully complied with his request, and my understanding was (though I do not say that he directly stated it) that he was visiting Paris to aid the Minister from Peru in securing the recognition of the Calderon government by France. By Mr. Elmore's own statement he was simply going abroad to aid Mr. Randall in promoting the interest of a French corporation.

The question of veracity is the last one to be raised between gentlemen. I have not desired to raise it respecting any statement in Mr. Randall's supplementary testimony, except where necessary to my own defense. And even there I perceive a theory which accounts for the strange misrepresentation of my position made by Mr. Randall. In his conferences with me (which were not so numerous as he thinks, for he mistakes his efforts to see me for actual interviews) the talk was about the condition and prospects of Peru. To Mr. Randall's ears Peru meant the Credit Industriel, and the expression of my desire to preserve the autonomy of Peru meant to him the adoption of the Guillaume Programme, Protectorate and all, by the Department of State. In short, my interest in the fate of Peru he construed to mean an interest in the Credit Industriel.

This or some other error of judgment may account for Mr. Randall's statement that I was talking to him about the Credit Industriel in a tone directly contrary to that which I was constantly using in my official correspondence. The absence of all possible motive for misleading Mr. Randall relieves me from making any argument on that point. I have no recollection of ever writing a line to Mr. Randall, or receiving a line from him. Our intercourse was always polite, was always of his own seeking, was always unimportant, and was never for a single moment confidential. The respect I feel for Mr. Elmore prevents any further expression in regard to his position than the sincere regret that he should, as a Minister Plenipotentiary, have so entirely identified himself with the interests of a private corporation, foreign to his own country, foreign to the country to which he was accredited, and quite as ready, according to Count Montferrand, to aid Chili as aid Peru.

In writing what I trust is my final word on this tiresome subject, I beg to remind your honorable committee that, at the outset of this investigation, prolonged and even vindictive effort was made to prove that the Department of State had favored and endeavored to promote the interests of the Peruvian Company. Many parts of my despatches were quoted and a forced and erroneous construction put upon them to prove that they must have been written to help the Peruvian Company. The effort, however, broke down. The chief witness, Mr. Shipherd, became entirely discredited, and five of his counsel, over their own signatures, showed that his testimony on one important point was absolutely false.

As soon as the charge in regard to the Peruvian Company was practically abandoned or, at least, totally disproved, the accusation about the Credit Industriel was started. It originated with the same men, was plied in large part, by the same agencies and with a singular identity of tactics. The despatches that, a little while before, meant unmistakably the Peruvian Company, were now perceived to refer, without doubt, to the Credit Industriel, and though the two interests were opposite and hostile, the flexibility of the despatches could, in the same paragraph, accurately represent either or both.

Mr. Chairman, two statements that conflict cannot both be true, but our lessons in logic teach us that they can both be false. I submit to you that in this case they have both been proved false.

All that I ask, and I have a right to ask this, is that the foreign policy of the government when I was at the head of the Department of State, shall be judged by its official acts, its official despatches, its official records. I ask that the true history of great questions shall not be determined by wayside talk, by hearsay of interested parties, by errors of memory, by shreds and patches of idle gossip, by misrepresentations of the malignant, or by misapprehensions of the ignorant.

I am very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
JAMES G. BLAINE.

YORK, Maine, July 17, 1882.

HON. JAMES G. BLAINE:

DEAR SIR:—I am in receipt of yours, asking me, as late Special Envoy of the United States to the belligerents in South America, to state my knowledge of certain matters connected with your administration as Secretary of State.

1. From your formal instructions to me and the personal consultations had with you before my departure on that mission, I have never been able to see that there was any ground for misunderstanding or misconstruing your position in regard to the Credit Industriel. It has been consistent throughout as I understood it.

You always expressed yourself to me as desirous that the Credit Industriel might, if possible, be made useful to Peru in her distress. But you were entirely unwilling that the United States should make the programme of that company a part of their own negotiation or should assume a guarantee of the arrangement which it might make with the Peruvian Government. You did not favor the project of a Protectorate over any port of South America. Your idea was to leave Peru free to negotiate with the Credit Industriel, and you instructed Gen. Hurlburt and afterwards myself to report the result of such negotiations to the Department. What action might be beyond was necessarily for the decision of the Government, and its policy would in all probability have depended largely upon the report made by the Minister. As matter of fact, neither Gen. Hurlburt nor myself was ever called upon to take any action in regard to the Credit Industriel during our respective missions in South America.

2. As to your designing a war, that supposition is too absurd for serious consideration. If you had any such purpose it was carefully concealed from me, and I left for South America with the impression that I would have completely failed in my mission if I did not succeed in obtaining an amicable settlement of the differences between the belligerents. You will allow me to add that I would have declined the mission if I had thought otherwise. As I understood you, your object was by the friendly solution of the existing difficulties, to prepare the way for the meeting of the Peace Congress at Washington, when you hoped to establish such relations between the Republics of the two Americas, as would prevent the possibility of future war. But for the strange misconception for which I cannot account, which reached and misled the Chilian Cabinet, though some of the leading and influential papers of the United States, I believe that purpose could have been accomplished under your instructions.

3. In regard to the Cochet and Landreau claims, it is sufficient to say that you rejected the first, absolutely. As to the second, you instructed Gen. Hurlbut to ask, if the proper time for such request should come, that Landreau should be heard before a Peruvian tribunal in support of his claim, and that in case of a peace providing for the cession of Peruvian territory, the condition of his claim should be brought to the attention of Chili and Peru. This instruction, as stated in your dispatch, was made in view of the fact that numerous claims of Europeans for fabulous amounts were being pressed and you were anxious, as you expressed it, that the resources of Peru should not be exhausted in the settlement of the claims of foreigners to the prejudice of one belonging to an American citizen. This notification would not have interposed an obstacle to the conclusion of a treaty of peace, but would have simply signified to both parties that its provisions could not put aside any rights which Landreau might be found to possess after an impartial judicial investigation.

Under the restrictions of your instructions, Gen. Hurlbut, although himself approving the justice of Landreau's claim in his despatch of Sept. 14, 1881, never brought it in any way to the consideration of the Peruvian Government. During my mission in South America I never referred to it, so that in point of fact during your secretaryship the Landreau claim was never mentioned either to the Chilian or Peruvian government by the ministers of the United States. It could not therefore have affected the then pending diplomatic questions in the remotest degree.

Yours very truly
and respectfully
WM. HENRY TRESCOT.

Articles of Association

In accordance with the provisions of the Revised Statutes of the State of Maine, chapter 48, sections 18, 19 and 20, and chapter 65 of the Public Laws of said State of the year 1870, and Statutes amendatory thereof and additional thereto, we, the undersigned, whose residences are stated opposite our respective signatures, hereby associate ourselves together by these written articles of agreement, for the purpose of organizing a corporation for the following purposes, to wit:

1st. Purchasing, owning, controlling and using the following property, viz. The Veazie estate in Oldtown, Penobscot county, being the same premises described in a certain bond dated April 10, 1882, given by Charles V. Lord and others to William H. Malling, and by said Malling assigned to the Milford Land and Lumber Company.

Also, all the real estate and interest in real estate, including mills, mill privileges and water rights which the Milford Land and Lumber Company owns within the following limits, to wit:—Beginning at the northerly line of said company's land on the Penobscot river in the town of Milford; thence easterly along said northerly line one half mile, thence southerly by a line to be run following the general course and trend of said river about two and one half miles in length and distant from the east bank of said river about one half mile to the southerly line of said company's land in said Milford; thence westerly along said southerly line one half mile to said river; thence along and by said river to the point of beginning.

Also, any other real estate and interest in real estate, including mills, mill privileges and water rights, dams, towage and canals in said State, and personal property which may be deemed necessary, useful or convenient for the business of the corporation.

2d. Erecting dams, cutting canals, using, leasing and selling water power and water rights.

3d. Building mills and factories, using and leasing the same, and manufacturing wood, iron, steel, cotton, wool, paper and other things.

4th. With power and right not only to use and lease, but to mortgage, sell and convey any or all their property, and property rights, and do whatever things may be necessary, useful or convenient in the business aforesaid.

Which said corporation shall be located at Bangor, in the county of Penobscot, in said State of Maine, and shall have its office at Bangor, Old Town and Milford.

The first meeting shall be held in accordance with section 18 of said chapter 48, Revised Statutes, at the office of Chas. Hamlin, room No. 5, Larrabee's Block, West Market Square, in Bangor, in said county of Penobscot, on the 9th day of Aug. A. D. 1882, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

Dated this 11th day of July, A. D. 1882, at said Bangor.

A COOL PROPOSITION THAT THE FARMERS WILL APPRECIATE

[From the Commercial July 26]

The best farmers in the State or many of them at least believe that if a reduction by at least one half of the duty on hay would lead to the consumption of the entire product on the farms of Maine It would be a great thing for the agricultural interests of our State

In plain words the Fusion organ of a free trade party proposes that the farmers shall be entirely robbed of a market for their surplus hay crop by admitting free of duty the vast product of the foreign fields just across our border, in order that they may be compelled to conduct their farming operations according to the notions of the Bangor Commercial.

We imagine that the farmers of Maine who have been toiling in the sun during the past fortnight to secure the magnificent hay crop of this season, will highly appreciate the proposal to abolish the duty so as to destroy the sale of the hundreds of thousands of tons of hay which should and will bring to them many millions of dollars this year

We would like to have that cool proposition of Governor Plaisted's home organ read in every hay field in Maine to the sturdy farmers who are garnering the great staple crop of our State

And those intelligent citizens will not fail to note the fact that while those frothy elect on-time friends of the people, Thompson H Murch and George W Ladd have abandoned their post of duty at Washington to harangue political pow wows, the Republican Congressional delegation of Maine are faithfully attending to their duties, and while the Fusion press is threatening to discipline the farmers by depriving them of all protection Representative Dingley is actively urging the restoration of the 20 per cent duty on foreign hay to protect the market for the valuable surplus crop of Maine

We are glad to find that the Commercial thus explicitly confesses its open hostility to the protection of our farm stock and products by the tariff upon foreign competition

The Republican ticket in this State is composed of protectionists' standing on a protection platform The farmers can best protect themselves by voting to leave them all at home

If that we are quite willing to let the farmers be the judges

MR BLAINE'S SUPPLEMENTARY STATEMENT.

We publish on our first page to-day the full text of Mr Blaine's supplementary statement in which he meets and disposes of the specious points raised by Robert Ingersoll and Mr Elmore The entire statement which is of interest throughout should be read, and it will be found as clear complete convincing and unanswerable as Mr Blaine's statements have a habit of being.

REORGANIZING NATIONAL BANKS.

The Comptroller of the Currency reports that forty nine national banks have placed their affairs in liquidation and organized as new institutions with the same name by which they were known prior to the passage of the act extending the charters of national banks. The reorganization of these banks makes necessary the issue of notes of new design to them The distinctive feature of the new $5 bank note will be a portrait of the late President Garfield. There is to be no change in the vignettes of the notes of the other denominations, but the seal and the charter number is to be printed in brown and the Treasury numbers in blue The borders of the reverse of all the notes are to be printed in brown, with brown lathe work in the centre in place of the historical engravings heretofore used The charter number of the bank will be engraved six different times in the border of each of the new notes of every denomination, so that the title of each note can be readily ascertained hereafter from fragments of the notes. Upon the centre of the back of each note the charter number of each bank is to be printed in large green figures, so that the notes of each and every bank hereafter issued will be a distictive feature

We notice that the Boston papers print the despatch giving President Arthur's views on political assessments so that it reads that no person "declining" to contribute shall on that account be subjected to discharge or criticism, etc

The Portland Argus having copied with great gusto Daniel Stickney's tirade against the nomination of Hon Frederick Robie, the Press enjoys reproducing from the columns of the Argus of June 28, 1875, an editorial in which the Argus quoted and approved a similar outburst of wrath by Daniel Stickney, after the Republican State Convention, denouncing the nomination of Governor Connor and favoring the nomination of Col Boble, of Gorham.

The letter of Capt Boutelle in relation to the duty on hay is of particular interest to the farmers of our section, who will appreciate its importance. We shall refer to this matter in a future issue.—Aroostook Republican.

MR. LADD OPENS THE CAMPAIGN.

The Fusion Campaign of 1882 has been formally, if not impressively, opened. It was done in Portland, Monday night, in the presence of a few perspiring unfortunates in City Hall, who had been drawn in by the display announcements in the Argus and the seductive strains of Chandler's Band.

It was the great occasion on which the Great Principles of the Fusion Party, running on two contradictory platforms, were to be unfolded, and in order that the "shoos" should be strikingly and powerfully presented, Congressman George W Ladd obtained leave of absence on the plea of 'important business,' and went over to Portland to save the country.

With a keen sense of sympathy for the self-sacrificing devotion of Hon. Rion Bradbury, Hon S. C. Strout, Hon Nathan Cleaves and others who sat on the platform while Mr Ladd's fiery eloquence discounted the 100 degrees Fahrenheit that pervaded the atmosphere we feel it a duty to lay before the people, in his own logical and burning sentences, the statement of the questions involved in the pending campaign in Maine, as set forth by our Representative.

In our desire to preserve an accurate record of this masterly address, we copy the full text verbatim, from the friendly columns of the Argus and send it forth to-day so that if there shall be any one among the six hundred thousand people of Maine this addressed at this threshold of the canvass, who can derive any idea of what Mr Ladd meant or what he thought he meant, or just what he proposes to do about it, the great effort shall not be utterly lost upon an unappreciative age

The reports all state that Governor Plaisted was taken sick before the meeting commenced, but the mental and physical condition of the few survivors of the audience at the conclusion of Mr Ladd's speech is left to the imagination with the following text as a guide

[From the Argus, July 24]

MR LADD'S SPEECH.

Mr President Ladies and Gentlemen

I came here to-night to hear our Governor speak Unfortunately he is sick I am called unexpectedly and must speak without preparation But I never refuse to stand up before a gathering of my fellow citizens and give them my views on the questions of the day It was generally understood that at this meeting our Chief Magistrate would devote himself to a clear presentation of State issues. Those questions I am comparatively ignorant of being away from the State a large part of the past few years at the nation's capital Two mighty armies are striving for life and existence in this country to-day In one year has the tariff question been brought so prominently forward as this year We have now what is called the monopolists—those that you built up that they might improve your condition They now rule seven eighths of the country, and you are treated scarcely better than dumb beasts These elect the Congress the men who make your laws They enjoy every luxury They pay literally nothing to support the government A few years ago we took ground against these monopolists Our little band of Greenbackers have stripped them of a part of their ill gotten wealth We have compelled them to keep $100,000 000 of greenbacks in circulation. We have made the Republican party get on their knees They swore the country would go to ruin unless the greenback was retired But how smoothly things have gone on with the greenback as the people's money Even the very bank bill they passed against our will provides that at the syndicate in New York silver certificates shall be received But we have not had our full way We have so used our influence that the Republican party has been compelled in some instances to regard the wishes of the people

The monopolists of Ohio New Jersey and elsewhere have all grindstone before they get through The last Speaker of the House of Representatives in appointing committees failed to appoint men not in the interest of monopolists and so the session has been prolonged The whole trouble in Congress has been because the minority has been trying to control the majority It is the struggle of capital against labor Nothing is left undone to overreach and to outrage the well fixed principles of this country The banks met in council a year ago and declared that they would do But they have failed us in part The bonded debt of this country will be paid in two years and then where will your National banks be? In two years the banks will come forward and ask for State bonds to bank on. Within five years the cry will be that the State bonds must be taken up by the federal government so as to perpetuate this aristocracy. Unless we fight down this coming evil we shall be like Ireland or Alexandria or other dependencies of England It is the old struggle of the people against capital England ranches all over South America She has taken $250 000 000 in India, and now takes Egypt. The taxes in Egypt are four times higher than ours. What has been done there by capital will be done here

The committee on banking and currency stood 9 in favor of and 2 against rechartering the national banks The bill passed the House, but was amended in the Senate, and the Republican party are again on their knees The speaker here took up the question of the remonetization of silver and declared himself in favor of free coinage of silver as fast as it is taken from the mines When silver was remonetized it was claimed that our bonds wouldn't sell and that all the gold in the country would flow into the coffers of England But three years have passed and none of the dire results predicted have taken place More gold by $250,000,000 came from the old countries in one year than had ever come before in an equal space of time Coin silver freely and in live year we shall be the richest country in the world

Why is it that Portland to-day is nearly where she was ten years ago? It is your legislation A little pension money is all the aid we now get from government Twenty years hence if we adopt the right policy we can build every ship in the United States. Learn to make your iron into plates for the world is bound in that direction Iron clads are to be the ships of the future

There are but two great parties Though a Greenbacker, I am well aware if we go with anybody else our votes will avail us naught. The people are for Plaisted. When Frye went back to Washington and said they had money enough to buy up the State, a blush of shame mantled every honest cheek that heard him Are we on Maine to be bought? (Cries of "No, no") There is too much manhood in the Pine Tree State to permit the success of a buying up vote policy. In closing I would say to those of you who feel as if you wanted to be nominated to ride your time, and join the great army that is fighting for our country's rights and future greatness

The Democrats of the 1st Maine District endorsed Dane, the Greenback candidate for Congress.—Wisconsin Standard

Mr Dane is a hard money Democrat—a bondholder and president of a national bank. He was nominated first by a square Democratic convention as a square Democrat, and was put on the ticket to give the whole thing a Fusion Bourbon taint. After he was nominated by the Democrats he was nominated by a convention that called itself "Greenback" Mr. Dane stands before the country as a Democrat, but is willing to vote for "Greenbackers" if Greenbackers will vote for him to pay for it. Our Western exchanges make a mistake when they talk about Mr. Dane as a Greenbacker, he makes no pretension of being a Greenbacker, but accepted the Greenback nomination of a Fusion convention as a Democrat. Any Democrat is good enough Greenbacker for the Fusionists of Maine. —Them Steers.

Judge Lauble has withdrawn from the Congressional contest in the XVIIIth Ohio District, and Major McKinley will undoubtedly be renominated. This result has been evident for some time.

AN INDEPENDENT CRITIC LAYER ROASTED BY ITS OWN FIRE

[From the Portland Press.]

The Portland Press is abusing Governor Plaisted of Maine in a very coarse and stupid way.—Springfield Republican.

The Republican is an independent journal that satisfies the old definition of an independent man in politics "A man who cannot be depended on"—to tell the truth The Press is not abusing Governor Plaisted. It is censuring him for defending the Garcelon count-out of 1879, concerning which the Republican said in December of that year (the same month in which Plaisted declared over his own signature that "the Governor and Council of this State in the inspection of the returns and tabulation of the same, which have just been completed, have acted in compliance with the Constitution and the laws, and we will sustain them,") "The Democrats, deliberately stole the State,' "The Governor and Council of Maine knew that no wrong whatever had been done by the informalities of the returns, and that it was a most infamous usurpation for them to defeat the deliberately expressed will of the voters," "The result of a State election has been deliberately falsified,' "A great wrong has been committed against the sovereignty of the people, 'A crime like this should divide public sentiment into two camps, not of Republicans and Democrats, but of honest men and scoundrels.

And the Republican which never has a coarse but always a delicate way of speaking further said 'The party in the State loads itself with the responsibility of a great political crime It accepts as its own the child of shame laid at its doors by a political strumpet It also said that Maine in consequence of the action of the Garcelon Council—approved by Plaisted—had "sunk to the lowest level of the most debased Southern communities,' and expressed the fear that the Fusionists would 'set up the gospel of Victoria Woodhull"

The Press, in censuring Governor Plaisted for approving this 'great political crime, this sinking of Maine' to the lowest level of the 'most debased Southern communities' the 'most infamous usurpation,' this 'defeat of the deliberately expressed will of the voters' this 'deliberate falsification of the result of a State election" this "great wrong committed against the sovereignty of the people "but it has not yet, called Plaisted a 'scoundrel" or a "political strumpet" or accused him of an attempt to "set up the gospel of Victoria Woodhull" It leaves that "coarse and stupid abuse' to the Republican—a journal that has not now for the first time found the inconvenience of making a record

STILL WRITHING

Governor Plaisted Portland organ the Advertiser, wriggles and writhes through more than a column of desperate absurdity, in its effort to make it appear that Harris M Plaisted was really laboring for an honest count when he sent the despatch to the Garcelon glorification meeting in Augusta commending, and threatening to sustain the State Steal "at all hazards." But the "plain people' cannot be fooled as to the meaning of the following message

Bangor, Dec. 23. We the undersigned, citizens of Bangor, believe that the Governor and Council of this State, in the inspection of the returns and tabulation of the same, which have just been completed, have acted in compliance with the Constitution and the laws, and we will sustain them and the constituted authorities of the State, to any extent and at all hazards.

Signed by H. M. PLAISTED and twenty seven others

SHIPHERD'S REJECTED TESTIMONY

WHAT THE NEW YORK PRESS THINKS OF IT —A FARRAGO OF OPINIONS AND SENTIMENTS

[New York World]

Mr Jacob R Shipherd, whose name some of our readers may remember to have heard mentioned in connection with Mr Blaine's remarkable diplomacy in South America obliges the Associated Press with a pamphlet of nearly a hundred pages in length containing what he describes as his "rejected testimony" It is not "testimony" at all. It is a farrago of Shipherd's opinions and sentiments about other people and especially about ex Secretary Blaine

OF NO USE IN ENTERTAINING THE PUBLIC

[New York Times]

We remember that there was such a man as Shipherd, but it was entirely unnecessary that we should be called upon to remind the public that he still exists It does not appear that he can be of any further use in entertaining the aforesaid public His balloon has collapsed, and Shipherd is henceforth superfluous, harmless, perhaps, as a cat, but unnecessary. Shipherd's part has been played, and there is no reason why his rejected testimony should not continue to be rejected

HIS BRIEF CAREER OF GLORY OVER

[New York Graphic]

Mr Shipherd should have remained in the obscurity from which he originally rose, and to which he again retired, His brief career of glory is over, and such spasmodic efforts like this to revive the past can do him no good.

ONE POINT IN THE COMMITTEE'S FAVOR.

[New York Herald]

An amiable but innocent critic once said of the "Rejected Addresses" of the Smiths that she "did not see why they should be rejected, as some of them were very good," but we doubt if the most amiable and complaisant reader in the United States can go to that length with respect to Shipherd's rejected testimony. On the contrary the fact that it did reject this "testimony" may be looked upon as a redeeming point in the conduct of the committee.

Governor Plaisted's fever and ague seems to have proved fatal to that Portland "Independent" bantling

The Louisiana Legislature passed a bill appropriating $250,000 to support the public schools of New Orleans. By a mistake of an enrolling clerk, the amount was changed to $550. The bill was signed and promulgated, and the Legislature had adjourned before the mistake was discovered There will have to be an extra session to rectify the mistake, or the city schools will have to remain closed for the rest of the year

During General Sherman's operations in Georgia large quantities of ammunition were stored in the railroad sheds at Resaca One day the building was struck by lightning. Hundreds of the bravest soldiers took to flight as they saw boxes of shell thrown about, saw the guards drop as if shot and saw smoke issuing from the top of the great pile of explosives But one man, clear-eyed and cool-headed, saw that the smoke came from tow in which the shells were packed, and climbing to the top he seized the burning mass, and holding it up shouted "All right, boys, no fireworks this time." His intrepidity and alertness saved the ammunition and possibly many lives.

Silver Lake Hotel,

KATAHDIN IRON WORKS.

This well known resort of the sportsman, invalid and tourist, is now open for the season During the spring the house has been greatly enlarged, thoroughly refitted and has been refurnished under the management of H. E Capen, formerly of the Kineo House

Good table, plenty of fish and game, best of clean beds, and constant attention to the wants and comforts of guests can be relied upon.

The most reliable physicians in the State unite in stating that this is the healthiest resort in the States. The wonderful tonic of the "Katahdin" mineral spring waters, constantly on draught at the hotel, and the pure elysair of the forests and mountains, invigorate the debilitated, while the beautiful mountain pools and the rapid streams invite and reward the sportsmen. Best of fishing, boating and gunning facilities Saddle and carriage horses and bunkboards to be had at all times

The Bangor & Katahdin Iron Works Railway, now running to Brownville, will be completed to the Iron Works early in September. Until that time, all passengers will be at Brownville on arrival of morning trains from Bangor, and take passengers through in time for dinner. For information about rooms, address,

MAINE NEWS.

REPUBLICANS ENCOURAGED.

Everything Looking Well for the Cause.

BOSTON, July 26. The Journal's Washington special says: The Republican members of the Maine delegation are anything but "worried," as has been reported about the coming election in that State. The advices received by the Senators and Representatives from their home correspondents are of the most encouraging nature, and they are perfecting plans for an energetic and thorough campaign. Several of the ablest Republican Senators and members of the House will go to Maine to take the stump there, while the State Republican Association here will send abundant supplies of campaign documents. Everything looks well for the Republican cause in the Pine Tree State next fall.

FORTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS—First Session.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 26. Mr. Conger, from the Committee on Congress, reported favorably the House bill to regulate the carriage of passengers by sea, and asked present consideration. He explained that the measure avoided the President's objection to the vetoed bill and urged its importance, laid over until to-morrow upon the request of Mr. Hoar, who desired to examine it.

Mr. Voorhees offered a resolution authorizing the Committee on Additional Accommodation for the Congressional Library to sit during recess, and asked its consideration, agreed to. Mr. Lapham stated that the Committee on Foreign Relations had given considerable attention to a bill for the protection of fish and fisheries on the Atlantic coast and learned upon inquiry that a larger amount of capital had been invested in the taking of fish for the manufacture of oil and fertilizers, and that it was claimed that the vessels engaged in that trade were seriously interfering with the food fisheries. The committee thought that a better knowledge of the facts relating to the conflict of interest should be obtained before any legislation was recommended. They had addressed Professor Baird on the subject and he had recommended investigation. Mr. Lapham accordingly reported a resolution directing the appointment of five members of the committee to act in conjunction with the fish commissioners in the investigation of the subject during the recess with power to send for persons and papers, adopted.

Mr. Miller, from the Committee on Naval affairs, reported an amendment to be proposed to the Sundry Civil bill appropriating $25,000 for the removal to the United States of the remains of Lieutenant Commander DeLong and companions and for proper burial within the United States; referred to the Committee of Appropriations.

The Senate took up the Naval Appropriation bill as in Committee of the Whole and Mr. Hale addressed the committee. He said the legislative features of the bill had their root not in the action of the Senate committee, but in the deliberate judgment of the House. He had been notified that a motion will be made to strike out these features. This would be virtually saying to the House we take direct issue with you at the outset and will have nothing to do with what you placed in the bill under the rules. After some debate Mr. Cameron, Chairman of the Naval Committee, at the instance of that committee moved to recommit the bill with instructions to the Appropriations Committee to eliminate all its provisions relating to the reorganization of the navy. Pending Executive session the bill was laid aside till to-morrow, and without action, on the motion of Mr Cameron, adjourned.

House.

Mr. Hiscock, of New York, presented a conference report on the General Deficiency Appropropriation bill stating the committee was unable to agree upon the payment of mileage to Senators for attendance at extra session. Mr. Hiscock moved that the House recede in that item, stating that though he was opposed to it, he did not desire that the passage of the bill should be endangered or delayed.

Mr. Hiscock's motion to recede was lost, yeas 55; nays 115, so further conference was ordered and Messrs. Hiscock, Robeson and Cox, of New York, were reappointed. Mr Cannon, of Illinois, from the Committee of Conference on Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriations, reported that the committee failed to agree. The difference is a provision for the transfer of the records of the Surgeon General's office to the Adjutant General's office. The House insisted on its disagreement and further conference was ordered.

Mr. Page, of California, called up a conference report on the River and Harbor bill, which was rejected yesterday, but upon which there was a motion to reconsider. Mr. Cox, of New York, withdrew his motion to lay the motion to reconsider upon the table; the House then voted 114 to 27, to reconsider the vote by which it, yesterday, refused to agree to the conference report.

Several minor bills were passed and the floor was granted to the Committee on Indian Affairs, the first bill called being the Senate bill for the sale of that part of the Omaha Indian reservation in Nebraska west of the right of way granted to the Sioux City and Nebraska Railway Company. After some debate the previous question was ordered and the House adjourned.

MASSACHUSETTS

A Fatal Result.

GREENFIELD, July 26. Mathias Herre, stabbed at Turner's Falls, yesterday, in a quarrel, died this afternoon. A warrant of murder will now be issued against Sullivan, who is in jail.

THE RIFLE MATCH.

England's Team.

LONDON, July 26. The following have been elected as members of the British team to go to America to compete in the rifle match: Bates, Boulter, Caldwell, Dods, Goodsell, Goodear, Heap, McVittie, Millish, Oliver, Parry and Major Pears.

VERMONT.

Judge Poland Nominated.

MONTPELIER, July 26 The Second District Republican Convention to-day nominated Luke P. Poland, for Congress on the first ballot. The vote stood: Poland, 191; Grant, 125, W. P. Dillingham, 10. Judge Poland accepted the nomination in a speech.

Railroad Meeting.

RUTLAND, July 26. At the annual meeting of the Rutland Railway Company held to-day the following directors were elected: John B. Page, Rutland; James W. Hickock, Burlington; E. A. Birchard, Brandon; Jacob Edwards, Wallace F. Robinson, Henry M. Whitney, Boston; Jno. Prout, Rutland; Edward S. Mosley, Newburyport; James, H. Williams, Bellows Falls. At a subsequent meeting of the directors John B. Page was re-elected President, and James M. Haven Secretary and Treasurer. Page, Birchard, Mosley, Robinson and Hickock were appointed Finance Committee.

MYSTIC PARK.

Wednesday's Races.

BOSTON, July 26. Dick Dample won the 2:32 race at Mystic Park to-day; best time 2:31½. In the race for gentlemen's road horses to road wagons, Alsie P. took first money; best time 2:30¼.

CONDENSED DESPATCHES.

A Rochester, Minn., despatch says: The Republicans of the First Congressional District nominated Milo White for Congress.

THE WAR IN EGYPT.

ARABI WANTS HIS OFFENCES CONDONED

As a Condition to His Disarming Some of the Rebels.

The Demand Rejected.

THE BRITISH DRAWING NEARER.

Turkey's Position.

LONDON, July 26. The statement that Turkey has consented to send troops to Egypt is misleading. The Porte has now recognized the appropriateness of the suggestions to send troops and now proposes to discuss the conditions under which they shall be sent, a process which, if carried out in accordance with Turkish notions of diplomacy, might occupy six months.

The Times' Ramleh correspondent states that the British have ruined the railway embankment at Ramleh as a precaution against a night attack.

English Landed at Port Said.

ALEXANDRIA, July 26. Arabi Pasha has withdrawn the bulk of outlying pickets to Kafre El Dwar. A force from the English men of war has been landed at Port Said.

A Second Credit Rejected.

PARIS, July 26. The Committee of the Chamber has rejected the proposal for a second credit of 9,500,000 francs for protective measures in Egypt.

No Action.

LONDON, July 26. Commons again adjourned without reaching a decision on the motion for credit for a force for Egypt.

An Attempt to Surprise the British.

LONDON, July 26. The Telegraph in the second edition contains the following: Alexandria, 8 50 A M.—At 9 o'clock last evening a decided attempt was made to surprise the British outposts under the cover of darkness. A force of 800 men approached close to the British lines, when the 38th regiment opened fire, and the enemy retreated precipitately. During the remainder of the night the Egyptians continued moving about just beyond range. The attempt was preceded by reports that Arabi Pasha was attempting to treat for conditions for his surrender, and that while the flag was flying over his intrenchments. The reports was probably circulated to lull the vigilance of the British.

A Cool Proposition.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 26. It is stated the first detachment of Turkish troops sent to Egypt numbers 16 battalions and that arrangments are making to send 64 battalions if necessary. There has been rioting at Smyrna. Ismail Pasha just returned from Arabi's camp, the latter's proposition is regarded as preposterous. He seeks to have his offences condoned and on this condition consents to disarm a portion of the rebels under his command. Major-General Allison will not listen to this demand and is drawing closer to Arabi's position.

The Suez Canal.

ROME, July 26. Paget, British Ambassador, presented to the Italian Government to day an invitation to join in the protection of the Suez Canal. Signo Mancini, Minister of Foreign Affairs, in reply, fully reciprocated the friendly sentiment of England but pointed out that it was impossible for the Italian Government to decide on its course before knowing the intentions of the conference.

Nothing Short of Unconditional Surrender.

ALEXANDRIA, July 26. The Khedive now recognizes the impossibility of granting any terms to Arabi short of unconditional surrender. In consequence of the falling water in the canal a proclamation has been issued enjoining the strictest economy in the use of water. A council was held to-day to prevent an outbreak which it is feared will occur if the supply fails. The Khedive has been informed that Arabi Pasha has sent orders to the Prefect of the Police, at Cairo, to send all the police to the rebel camp and to fill their places with the refugees from Alexandria who are now quartered at Gezereh.

Ibrahim Bey, Prefect, although hitherto a partisan of the military faction, had the courage to decline, as he refused to be responsible for the safety of the capital if the police were taken away. Arabi Pasha, upon receiving his answer, ordered the arrest of Ibrahim.

FATAL EXPLOSION.

Several Men Killed.

NEW ORLEANS, July 26. The steamboat Fanchon soon after leaving her dock this afternoon blew out the head of the forward flue, killing a colored fireman. The second clerk was fatally scalded and fifteen deck hands were more or less injured. Many of the latter jumped overboard and it is believed five or six were drowned.

THE JEANNETTE EXPEDITION.

A Serious Charge.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 26 Dr. D. T. Collins, of this city, brother of Jerome J. Collins, who lost his life with DeLong, of the Jeannette, has been interviewed regarding his letter to Representative Washburn and his reasons for asking an investigation by Congress. From interviews with Lieut. Danenhower and Dr. Newcomb, Dr. Collins charges that after the Mellville-Danenhower party had reached a place of safety Danenhower asked permission to search for DeLong and his party. Melville refused and ordered Danenhower south, saying he would make the search himself, and without making a thorough search Melville remained south till receiving instructions from Washington to return north and that all circumstances since developed show that had Melville made an energetic search at the beginning or permitted Danenhower to do so DeLong and party would have been saved.

VIRGINIA.

Political Matters.

RICHMOND, July 26. The Republican State central committee of Straight-outs, met to-day and voted not to call a State convention. They nominated Rev. M. Dawson, colored, for Republican candidate for Congressman-at-Large, and adopted Republican resolutions.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Confession of the Irish Assassin.

NEW YORK, July 26. A despatch from St. Thomas says the assassin of Lord Cavendish arrested at Puerto Cabello, Venezuela, gives his name as William Westgate. He was arrested on the 16th inst. on his own confession. He shipped the 8th of May under the name of O'Bryan on the British bark Gladstone, from Swansea to Tucopas. He says he left Dublin the night of the 6th of May by steamer to Swansea. The names of three of his companions and other details of the murders were taken by deposition before the British Consul. He says he was employed by O'Conner and other influential persons. Parties who have seen the man give credence to the confession. In appearance the man is tall and slender. He says that the price of the deed was £20 to each assassin. He said that £20 was worth more to an Irishman than an Englishman's life. It is believed that the Venezuelan Government will surrender him, although there is no extradition treaty. The British foreign office has been telegraphically communicated with.

FROM WASHINGTON.

General News.

The Internal Revenue Bureau.

WASHINGTON, July 26. General Raum's report of the workings of the Internal Revenue Bureau during the past year shows the entire collections of internal revenue tax for the past fiscal year amounting to $146,520,723.71 have been accounted for and turned into the Treasury. During the past six fiscal years $748,831,071.01 have been collected from internal revenue taxation and paid into the Treasury without any loss by defalcation.

American Shipbuilding.

The House Committee on Commerce today heard Representative Hewitt, Belmont and Dingley in advocacy of the passage, during this session of Congress, of a pending resolution authorizing the appointment of a special committee to inquire into the condition and wants of American shipbuilding.

The River and Harbor Bill

as amended by the last committee of conference and finally passed by both Houses of Congress appropriates $18,743,875. Among the items of appropriation for surveys and improvements of rivers and harbors are the following: Improving the harbor at Portland, Me , $35,000; harbor at Richmond, Me., $10,000; harbor at Rockland, Me., $40,000, harbor at Portsmouth, N. BALM IN GILEAD.

There is a balm in Gilead to heal each gaping wound;
In Thomas' Eclectric Oil, the remedy is found.
For internal and for outward use, you freely may apply it,
For all pain and inflammation, you should not fail to try it.
It only costs a trifle, 'tis worth its weight in gold,
And by every dealer in the land this remedy is sold.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE. Edward Batchelder, a somewhat notorious character, attempted suicide last evening. He was found hanging in the upper part of his house on Thomas Lane, and a woman cut him down. If he had not been taken down just as he was, life would in a brief time have been extinct. In a short time he recovered from the effects of the adventure and left the house.

A SERIOUS FALL. Shortly before noon yesterday a serious accident occurred at the French street residence of Mr. Silas Alden. A painter by the name of Edwin L. Adams fell from the roof to the ground a distance of over thirty feet, and received numerous severe injuries, among which was a fractured leg. He was removed in a coupe to his home on Forest Avenue and his injuries attended to by a physician.

SAD BURNING ACCIDENT. A terrible burning accident occurred in Veroni on Monday last. A child about two years of age, was playing in the vicinity of some flames when his clothes caught fire and he was frightfully burned before the arrival of assistance. Medical aid was summoned, but he was injured beyond recovery, and the little fellow died during the evening of the same day. The mother was absent from home at the time.

BAR HARBOR. The Mt. Desert Herald says: The summer residents and visitors who in former years have kindly contributed to the support of the public library at Bar Harbor will be gratified to know that the citizens of the place have shown their appreciation of it during the past year by drawing out between Oct. 1st, 1881, and June 1st, 1882, forty-five hundred volumes, and also by contributing to its support during the past year the sum of one hundred and twenty dollars.

YESTERDAY'S ALARM. About noon yesterday an alarm of fire was sounded and the department responded with alacrity, notwithstanding the intense heat. The location of the fire was uncertain and the several companies ran in different directions. One company attached hose to the hydrant at the corner of Franklin and Hammond streets and unreeled considerable hose before it was ascertained that the fire was not in that vicinity. Subsequently the hose companies and steamer went down the Hampden road about to the Alms House. The fire proved to be in the woods in the rear of the Alms House.

EATON FAMILY SCHOOL. Some sixteen years ago, Mr. H. F. Eaton purchased a stand at Norridgewock, fitted it up for a family school, and moved his school from Kent's Hill to this place. Soon after, Mr. Eaton, at the solicitation of the citizens of the place, changed the character of his school and admitted day scholars. Individuals interested having erected a suitable school building to accommodate the increased school. The school has been in, never more so than now, almost flourishing condition all these years. A change in the board of instruction will take place at the beginning of the fall term. Mr. Eaton has disposed of his interest and good will in the school, and also sold his residence to Mr. Hopkins of Stonington, Conn., who will be at the head of the department of instruction. It is Mr. Hopkins' intention to establish a semi department in the school. Mr. Eaton has given his constant attention and supervision to the school all these years, and he is compelled by ill health to relinquish the charge of the school. The school has come to its present prosperity through Mr. Eaton's rare qualifications for the position he has held.

THE WEATHER. Another intensely hot day was experienced yesterday. The thermometer most of the time ranged from 90° to [illegible] in the shade. Rarely is so prolonged a spell of fierce heat vouchsafed us in Bangor, as has prevailed for some days past. The absence of rain, while making the haymakers rejoice for the time being, had already begun to have a bad influence on crops, the soil was becoming dry and parched, and the highways were buried beneath vast quantities of dust. As evening arrived, evidences of the much desired rain were detected. A few minutes before nine a strong wind created more or less havoc by its fierceness. In a brief time the clouds commenced to empty their watery contents and the rain fell in torrents, thoroughly drenching many who, on account of the rapidity with which the storm burst upon the city, were unable to seek cover. The rain continued to fall for some time and the scene was illuminated by frequent and brilliant flashes of lightning accompanied by sonorous thunder.

Prof. Henry Johnson, of Bowdoin College, has been granted a leave of absence for two years, which he will spend at the celebrated university of Upsala, Sweden, probably for the purpose of completing his studies in the Scandinavian language. His wife will accompany him.

FROM AROOSTOOK.

Easton Items.

[From Our Regular Correspondent.]

Splendid growing weather during the past three weeks, consequently the crops are all looking well and bid fair to yield large returns. The potato fields are looking especially well, and the indications now are that the yield will be very large. It is hoped that such will be the case, as, at the present this is the main crop of the majority of the Aroostook farmers, hence, if it is cut short it seriously affects their financial prospects.

Haying has just fairly begun. It is said that the crop will be quite good, though in many places the grass "winter killed" badly. As in the "outside" world, mowing machines, horse-rakes and horse-pitchforks are extensively used here, so we are not so far behind others in civilization as some may think.

THE ALL ABSORBING QUESTION

here during the past three weeks has been "How many trout did you catch?" for be it known unto all, far and wide, that there is no stream in the county equal to the Presteel for brook trout, some of which weigh one and two pounds, or even more. It is no exaggeration to say that bushels of the speckled beauties have been taken out within the past month, while there are barrels of them left. Your correspondent himself has averaged over one hundred at a catch whenever he has been, while others have done still better. The most and biggest of these trout are found in the mill ponds in Blaine and Mars Hill, and if one may believe half he hears, some wonderful things are done in the angling line. How the school boys of your city would rejoice if they only had an opportunity to spend a few days in such a place.

POLITICAL MATTERS

are quiet on all sides. I know of two men, however, in this town, who voted the entire Fusion ticket two years ago, who have positively declared that they will not vote for Ladd this year, though they may vote for the rest of the ticket, but shall support a Republican candidate instead. They say they despise a man who pretends to be a Greenbacker in Maine, but turns up in the Democratic camp as soon as he gets to Washington. Still another man who was opposed to the Republicans two years ago, has declared his intention of voting for Robie. I hear of several others in adjoining towns who have also said they should act with the Republicans this year, so, considering everything, the prospect seems to be looking well.

DANIEL STICKNEY'S

recent manifesto aroused considerable wrath here and it was unsparingly denounced as a base and malicious slander and a foul libel upon the citizens of Aroostook. It is safe to say that henceforth his opinions and wishes will receive but very little consideration and respect in the councils of the party.

THE TEMPERANCE QUESTION.

On the evening of August 9th, at Frisbie's Hall, Houlton, Rev. Geo. M. Park, of Presque Isle, and Ira G. Hersey, of Houlton, are to discuss, at the challenge of the latter, the question, "Has the Republican party of Maine been in the past and is it to-day a temperance party?" Mr. Hersey claims that it has not been such a party and is not now, but makes the astonishing charge that it is "sold out" to the rum element. He has certainly undertaken a big job to prove his side of the question and make good what he asserts, and it will be likely to prove a "Jumbo" for him before he gets through with it. The discussion is looked forward to with much interest by the people here.

A LARGE BUILDING

will be erected at Easton Centre this summer, the lower part of which will be used for a school room and the upper part for a town hall. Such a building has long been needed.

AFTER THE PICNIC.

Lobster Salad, Chicken Mayonnaise and roast clams, followed by fruit and ice-cream, will work vengeance on the good people who make a jolly meal of them. The vengeance is generally worked in the night, and comes in the shape of colic and cramps. It is then that handy and effectual means of relief are needed. Mr. Stowe the leading jeweler in Springfield, Mass., says that Perry Davis' Pain Killer is a most excellent remedy for those diseases like colic and cramps, which demand immediate attention. In many cases in his family it has saved the necessity of sending for a physician.

It is no wonder that invalids lose faith in all specifics, when so many worthless medicines are advertised to cure various diseases, but which, when tried, are found wanting. We have yet to learn, however of the first failure of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry to cure coughs, colds, and pulmonary diseases.

Articles of Association

In accordance with the provisions of the Revised Statutes of the State of Maine, chapter 48, sections 18, 19 and 20, and chapter 65 of the Public Laws of said State of the year 1876, and Statutes amendatory thereof and additional thereto, we, the undersigned, whose residences are stated opposite our respective signatures, hereby associate ourselves together by these written articles of agreement, for the purpose of organizing a corporation for the following purposes to wit:

1st Purchasing, owning, controlling and using the following property, viz: The Veazie estate in Oldtown, Penobscot county, being the same premises described in a certain bond dated April 10, 1882, given by Charles V. Lord and others to William H Malling, and by said Malling assigned to the Milford Land and Lumber Company.

Also, all the real estate and interest in real estate, including mills, mill privileges and water rights which the Milford Land and Lumber Company owns within the following limits, to wit:—Beginning at the northerly line of said company's land on the Penobscot river in the town of Milford, thence easterly along said northerly line one half mile, thence southerly by a line to be run following the general course and trend of said river about two and one half miles in length, and distant from the east bank of said river about one half mile to the southerly line of said company's land in said Milford, thence westerly along said southerly line one half mile to said river, thence along and by said river to the point of beginning. Also, any other real estate and interest in real estate, including mills, mill privileges and water rights, dams, flowage and canals in said State, and personal property which may be deemed necessary, useful or convenient for the business of the corporation.

2d Erecting dams, cutting canals, using, leasing and selling water power and water rights.

3d. Building mills and factories, using and leasing the same, and manufacturing wood, iron, steel, cotton, wool, paper and other things.

4th. With power and right not only to use and lease, but to mortgage, sell and convey any or all their property, and property rights, and to do what ever things may be necessary, useful or convenient in the business aforesaid.

Which said corporation shall be located at Bangor, in the county of Penobscot, in said State of Maine, and shall have its office at Bangor, Old town and Milford.

The first meeting shall be held in accordance with section 18 of said chapter 48, Revised Statutes, at the office of Chas Hamlin, room No 3, Larrabee's Block, West Market Square, in Bangor, in said county of Penobscot, on the 9th day of August, A D 1882, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

W. W. Harlow's buildings on Pidgeon Hill, Minot, were burned this morning. Loss $1,300; fully insured in a Lewiston agency.

Stephen Goodwin, of East Poland, was overcome by the heat and fell from a load of hay Sunday. He died instantly.

Cumberland.

Monday, the hands on the gravel train on the Boston & Maine road struck for higher pay. They have been receiving $8.50 per day and they wanted $1.50. In the afternoon the crew on the gravel train of the Ogdensburg struck for the same advance. As there is not much doing now it is thought the trains will be taken off.

Saturday evening, as the Gazelle was on her way up from the islands with a load of passengers, when off Bug Light, her main shaft broke. The Express at once put out to the rescue and towed the steamer to her wharf. Captain Knowlton immediately made arrangements to repair damages, and a new shaft will be put in as soon as possible.

Saturday, some of the shoemakers at A. F. Cox & Son's shops on Union street, Portland, asked for an increase of wages, which request was denied and the men struck.

Hancock.

The little steamer Nellie Kane, belonging to the Lamoine Packing Company, is being repaired at the Ellsworth Foundry and Machine shop.

Kennebec.

The Reporter says: Last Tuesday, Messrs. Walker and Maxey's crew sawed on one of scribner's improved board circulars, 223 logs, making 34,600 feet in nine hours.

J. K. Osgood, the reformer, of Gardiner, who has been laboring in the temperance cause in New Hampshire for several weeks, returned home, Wednesday last, suffering from a severe attack of hay fever. He is now improving however.

The Lockwood annex, at Waterville, is steadily rising. The work has been somewhat delayed on account of the ledge which they found necessary to remove.

Two U. S. detectives, disguised arrested a hotel keeper in Pittston, Barnum day, for selling liquor contrary to the United States law.

Sagadahoc.

A house, two ells, shed, and barn owned and occupied by Leander Small, situated on "Ridge road," four miles from Richmond village were burned Saturday night. The barn contained one half the crop of hay. Loss some $1,500; insured $800. Cause unknown.

The Times says the first glass ball shoot of the second series for the Sagadahoc Association Badge, will take place at the fair grounds in Topsham, on Friday, July 28, 1882, at one o'clock, P. M.

Washington.

Machias is to have a new post master.

Mr. Matthew Fallan, a young man employed at the Pembroke Ironworks, met with a serious accident, Monday afternoon, falling back into a pit and striking on his head and shoulders. He remained unconscious for some time, but is now better.

York.

Fire was discovered in the Carding Mill of Charles S. Soule, at Waterboro, Monday morning. The building, machinery and contents are a total loss. The origin of the fire is supposed to be spontaneous combustion. Estimated loss $3,000, no insurance.

It now transpires that the Mr. Malony, who reported himself robbed at the Ocean House, Old Orchard, is a gambler and test man, and the woman a notorious one. It is surmised they were not robbed at all, or that the man stole the diamonds from the woman to shove up. Their intention was probably to obtain money from the proprietors of the Ocean House.—Argus.

A panther is reported killing sheep on Dayton and Lyman.

The Argus says the directors of the Boston and Maine Railroad have been looking over the route surveyed from Kennebunk depot to Kennebunkport, and it is now quite well assured that the ground will be broken for this new road before the lapse of the summer months. The land has nearly all been bought on the line selected, which can be cheaply built. A company is to be organized with a capital of $65,000 to push forward the work, preparatory to leasing the same at 4½ per cent. on a long term of years to the Boston and Maine Railroad Company.

The Hon. J. B. Grinnell, of Iowa, called the other evening, while in Norwich, Conn., at the house of Mr. John F. Slater, whose name is so well known in connection with the princely fund given for the education of the Southern negroes. Messrs. Moses Pierce and H. B. Norton happened to call in at the same time, and they, with their host, made up a purse of $3,000 for the benefit of the sufferers from the recent cyclones in Iowa.

A California paper tells of a party of charming tramps, consisting of six young ladies, who were pushing through Redwood City on a pedestrian excursion. They were robust, good looking, full of life and energy and bent on a frolic. Dressed in uniform style of walking habit, slightly shorter even than the prevailing fashion, made of excellent and durable linen; plain but pretty hats, easy shoes, with high rubbers for dust, they were the personification of comfort. Each bore a knapsack upon her back, soldier style, and was armed with a revolver and bowie knife. Their trip is to take in the southern coast counties. Some nights they camp out and others they pass at hotels, as humor or convenience may happen.

Silk manufacture is steadily expanding and increasing in prosperity in this country. The Silk Association of America reports that the products of the year ending June 1881, which amounted in value to about thirty-five millions of dollars, are triple the value of the products of the factories 10 years ago. Since 1870 the product and the product ve capacity of the industry have very greatly increased. Within the decade the number of factories engaged in silk manufacture has increased from 56 to 85, while the looms increased from 3,500 to 8,000, and the hands employed from 5,600 to 21,300. The wages paid rose in the 10 years from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000, and many new states not previously engaged in the industry began to manufacture silks, and now have factories at work. These States are Maine, Rhode Island, California, Illinois, Kansas, and Missouri. The main part of the business is still, however, confined to New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, and Pennsylvania. The American factories, we are told by the association's report, have succeeded in materially reducing silk goods importations, and last year doubled the business done in the best year previous to the panic of 1873. As yet imported raw silk has to be used in American manufactures, as silk-raising is still in its infancy here. The American-made silk is gaining an acknowledged superiority, and makers are taking every precaution to maintain its standard of purity and guard against adulteration. It is often tested with the very best French-made goods as a standard. The simplest test of purity being to burn a small quantity of the threads. If pure, the latter will crisp at once, leaving a residue of pure charcoal only. Silk which has been subjected to treatment with heavy dyes will smolder awhile and leave a yellow and greasy ash behind.

REED ORGAN MUSIC

The Emerson New Method for Reed Organs ($2.50), is one of the newest methods and is a very fine method. It is by two well known writers, (Emerson and Mathews), and has a goodly quantity of very pleasing music, that might well be called vocal.

Clark's Harmonic School for the Organ ($3.00), by Dr. Clarke. Organs, either Cabinet or Pipe, and is an admirable school for voluntary playing.

Clarke's Reed Organ Melodies ($2.00) constitute one of the best arranged and interesting collections ever put together.

The Organ at Home ($2.00) has about 200 capital Reed Organ pieces. A well known and popular book.

Clark's Dollar Instructor for Reed Organs publishes all the good music and instruction that can be packed into a dollar book.

Winner's New School for Cabinet Organ (75 cts.), is one of his series of very convenient compact method books. They are only to beginners in appearance.

Johnson's Parlor Organ Instruction Book ($1.50), so highly approved, as leading in a simple manner the rudiments of Singing School and Church music on the Reed Organ.

Any book mailed for the price above mentioned.

MR. WM. WESTFALL,
Of Duchess Co., N. Y., 80 Years of Age, Suffered Continually for Many Years from Stone in the Bladder.

Great age and painful disease are a sad combination. Yet Mr. William Westfall, formerly of Rock City, Duchess Co., N. Y., now at Washington Hollow, in the same county, came to the office of Dr. David Kennedy, the eminent Physician and Surgeon at Roundout, N. Y., some time since, in a condition to excite the sympathy of the most cold blooded and hard hearted person in the world. We say he came—he was, rather, carried to the Doctor's office, for he was totally helpless, and bore the weight of 80 years besides. He had suffered long from Retention of Urine, and had all the symptoms of an aggravated case of calculous formations in the bladder. The unanimous opinion of examination revealed the presence in the bladder of a formidable calculus of uncommon size. Dr. Kennedy frankly told Mr. Westfall that, owing to his age and debility, an operation was out of the question, but that he could, by the prescription of "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," together with local treatment, make him comfortable and leave him to live out all his days. The outcome of this was that the patient enjoys good health to this day.

The Reason Why

Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is being extensively used by our people are as follows: It is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It is pleasant to the taste, adapted to both sexes and all ages, is effective in affording immediate relief in all cases of Kidney troubles liver Complaints, Constipation of the Bowels and derangements peculiar to women. At the same time it purifies the blood, thus giving tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease or age. "Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy" for sale by all druggists.
